

DID YOU KNOW?

THERE ARE MANY WAYS TO SAVE AND REUSE YOUR COURSE CONTENT

1. USE A DEVELOPMENT COURSE

A development course is a blank course that students will never have access to where you can practice and build a course. Request a development course for each course you teach, so that you have a place to design and edit your courses.

2. MERGE MULTIPLE SECTIONS

You can merge multiple sections of a course into a single course shell and facilitate each group of students separately within that course shell.

3. COPY/IMPORT/EXPORT COURSE MATERIAL.

Copy individual parts of a course into a new or existing course. For example, just the grade book or content from past course material to your new course shell.

4. REQUEST ENROLLMENT OF TEACHING ASSISTANTS.

Do you have a teaching assistant (TA) or graduate assistant (GA) who needs to be added to your D2L Brightspace course site? Refer to the D2L Brightspace Enrollments Procedures page for information on how to make your request.
